FOREWORD

This is the first mimeographed annual that Winslow High School has produced. Although it is not as good as we would have liked it to have been we have reaped a wealth of experience and those in the future, we are sure will be much better.

The Senior Class started this annual, but before it was finished, the help of about sixty students was enlisted, and it really became a school project.

DEDICATION

In Appreciation of the kindly guidance given during the past years, we, the Class of 1935, dedicate this issue of the METEOR to R. E. Booth, Vice-Principal of Winslow High School. We shall carry his influence with us.

ALMA MATER

Once again as our class-mates assemble,
We fain would lift our hearts in song
To our high school our dear Alma Mater
Let gladness the memories prolong.
We are proud of our lads and our lasses,
Of honors won in days gone by.
So here's a cheer for our old high school
For Winslow High School,
Our dear old high.

Here's to our classes,
Here's to our lasses,
Here's to the lads we adore,
Here's to the Seniors so mighty
Juniors so flighty
Freshie and Sophomores.
Let mirth and gladness
Banish all sadness
Then as the days go by,
You'll find us ready and steady
Boosting for Winslow High.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

Mrs. E. W. McClung

Has served as a member of the Winslow School Board since January 1, 1933 and as President of the Board during the past year.

Mr. R. D. McGregor

Has served as a member of the Winslow School Board since January 1, 1932 as well as several terms previous to this.

Mr. R. E. Keeney

Has served as a member of the Winslow School Board since January 1, 1934.

Under the guidance and direction of the former and present members of the Winslow School Board, the school system of the city has grown from one building to five buildings; from a few children to fifteen hundred children; from a rural school into one of the highest ranking city schools of the State. Accept our gratitude.

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

In the fall of 1931, a group of students entered Winslow High School as freshmen. At first they were shy but soon they were heard above the clamour of the upperclassmen. The biggest event of this year was the Junior-Freshman dance which established the freshmen socially. At mid-year a group of scrub-freshmen joined the class, but they were organized under a separate home room with Fred Yoder as president.

As sophomores this class led a rather uneventful life. Rosemary Phelps was the class president this year. In the contest at Flagstaff, the sophomores were well represented in the group numbers. Roderick McClung placed second in typing and first in geometry.

The big day had arrived! We were now upperclassmen. Fred Yoder became president of this ambitious class. Their first undertaking was the Junior-Freshman dance, which proved to be a huge success. The juniors also helped in the contest. Fred Yoder placed second in trumpet solo; Roderick McClung placed first in English fundamentals. The group numbers were made up of a large per cent of juniors. The junior play "Jonesy" was a financial success and enabled the juniors to say to the school, "Will you walk into my parlor, said the spider to the fly?" The parlor was the auditorium with a spider motif carried out in the decorations. This prom could not have been better and will always be remembered in W. H. S. Jim Bly, a junior, was elected student body president for the following year.

Under the capable leadership of Fred Yoder the Senior Class climbed to new heights. The seniors entertained the faculty with a picnic at Clear Creek. The seniors provided the 'eats' and the faculty provided the entertainment. Our play, "Gunshy" was our last expression of dramatics and it was well received by the audience. The seniors led the school in preparing for the "Bulldog Rumpus", the high school's first carnival. Fred Yoder was elected carnival king, and we might add here that it was one of the best attended and most enjoyable events of the year. From social events our minds turn to more studious subjects: the debate team was composed of four seniors, and we sent a large number of seniors to the contest again this year. Our class president placed second in the trumpet solo; Elma Bush, first in essay writing; Roderick McClung first in extemporaneous speaking; Harry Simmons, first in humorous reading; Ted Willey, third in serious reading; and Dolores Kelchner, second in shorthand.

Harriet Richardson was elected Miss W. H. S. This is the first time in many years that a senior has held this position.

This annual is the last project of the Senior Class and we hope it will always be a reminder to the school of the deeds and activities of the class of 1935.

JUNIOR CLASS HISTORY

Early one morning in September, 1932, about eighty-five freshmen "trudged, like snails, unwillingly to school." Who could have guessed then, by our timid countenances and hesitating manner, that we would soon be very essential to our Alma Mater, W. H. S.?

That first Fall we helped the juniors, whose position we now occupy, give the Junior-Freshman dance. A football motif was used, since the event took place during the football season, which was very appropriate. Apparently, a good time was had by all.

To prove that we really 'belonged' our boys won the inter-class basketball tournament and continued to hold that championship throughout their sophomore year.

Our dramatic talent was brought to light while we were sophomores by a play for the assembly and several minor home room programs. Under the very capable management of Miss Kerlin, one of our sponsors, we prepared for the Junior Play, "Growing Pains", which we presented this year. The classes before us have all given good performances but this one was really a "box office success."

The Junior-Freshman dance this year, given with the capable help of our associates, the freshmen, was another score for us. Although we no longer believe in Santa Claus, we had a huge Christmas tree and decorated the hall in the good old holiday fashion.

Then came the grand climax: The Junior Prom, positively the biggest event on the social calendar. There is no doubt in our minds concerning the good times had by our guests that evening. It will be remembered for many classes to come.

During our time in high school it has been our good fortune to have an efficient president, Daniel McBride. Under his leadership we have been able to realize our aims. We feel that only with an expression of our gratitude to him can this history close. We hope he will be with us again next year.

Daniel McBride: Bugs, bugs, everywhere!!

Rosalie Bennett: How'm I doin'?

Florence Woolk: Woe is me!

Archib Mcikle: I can't get over it.

Mary Margaret LaZear: Isn't he precious?

Tommy Hotcalfo: Where's Patsy?

Lewis Kotring: I don't believe it.

Julia Smith: Oh, this car embarrasses me to death.

Gus Cravath: There will come a day.

Evelyn: Babe sent this to me.

Betty Pohland: He'll never grow up.

Ralph Geeglein: Let's take a smoke.

Marjorie Yarnell: Oh, you fink so, huh?

Eugene Werner: Life's too short to study.

Philip Dietz: Oh yeah? Who said so?

Mildred Hopson: Did you see the show last night?

Bill O'Hara: Mary Margaret is my idea of a real girl.

Willard Recordon: Shh! Mice!

SOPHOMORE CLASS HISTORY

In September of 1933, we made our debut in W. H. S. Green? Of course we were. There were seventy of us, and it took all the power our sponsors could produce to curb this bunch of wild freshmen. Eventually, however, we became accustomed to being 'grown ups' and conducted ourselves accordingly.

Our greatest accomplishment the first year was helping with the Junior-Freshmen dance. It was pronounced a "real success". A number of our boys went out for football this year also and Charles McPhetridge earned a letter. Three girls were chosen to join the Pep Squad. They were Patsy Black, Betty Stiles and Marjorie Mullins.

This year when we returned there were only fifty of us but we have left our mark in W. H. S. Our class helped to make the carnival a success with a hot dog stand and an entertainment booth.

We also did our bit in athletics this year. We had eight boys on the football team and three of these received letters. Although we did not place in the inter-mural sports, we worked hard and gained a lot of experience. Our athletic managers were Helen Bostwick and Buddy O'Hara.

The class officers are: Bob Mullaneaux, president; Charles McPhetridge, vice-president; Marjorie Mullins, secretary; Jack Brannan, treasurer. We plan to all be back next year and give our Alma Mater a Prom that won't be forgotten and we are also going to support the other activities as only we can.

FRESHMAN CLASS HISTORY

High school! What a grand feeling! Here we were after a short and appropriate graduation. We looked about in wide-eyed amazement and found everything altogether different. Folks were more dignified, more reserved. We must act accordingly! We decided we could do it, and do it well, however, we were in for more than we bargained for. We had to do some "fancy stepping."

First we met our better half, the Freshmen X and our sponsors, Mrs. Godsell and Coach Wilson. Then we elected our officers as follows: John Watts, President; James Kline, Vice President; Norma Baldwin, Secretary; Lucille Bostick, treasurer, and of course our three student council representatives. Our next step was to get started: we immediately entered the soft ball tournament and won first place. Then it was basketball. In this we took second place. Well, we decided we weren't doing badly. However, it was time to think of something besides sports, so we had picnics and parties, which were great successes.

All too soon the semester ended and we found our better half was leaving us and the new freshmen 'scrubs' were coming in. Although we hated to see the other freshmen go, we were also glad to see the new classmates. In less time than it takes to write, we were soon buddies and things were going at an even pace again. The only changes in home room officers was Lucille Brown became Vice President and Marlin Jensen treasurer.

Now, as the school term draws to a close we want to express our appreciation to our sponsors and upper classmates, who have been so helpful and gracious to the "Green Freshies."

JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL

The Winslow Junior High School is composed of the seventh and eighth grades and has an enrollment of 175 pupils.

A student council governs the junior high. Members of the council are chosen from each class to represent it. In addition to the council, the junior high also has student body officers elected each semester. For the first semester the officers were: Marion Jones, president; Geraldine Miles, vice-president; Joysa O'Hara, secretary; Mary Louise Blackwell, treasurer.

The officers for the second semester are: Leslie Rhodes, president; Frank Nelson, vice-president; Joysa O'Hara, secretary; Joe Caraway, treasurer. These officers were finally chosen after a very bitter election.

Nearly all the pupils enter into one or more activities. Tennis, track, baseball, and football are the favorite recreations during physical education period. During the first semester basketball tournaments for both boys and girls were held. The present 8A2 girls and 9X boys were the winners.

Each class has a home room organization with class officers and a sponsor. Ordinarily home room programs are held each Wednesday morning at 10:30.

Early in the first semester a junior high chorus was started by Mr. Ostlie and Mrs. Winn. This proved extremely popular at first, but when they realized that they must give up two physical education periods a week, they began to look around for a way to discontinue chorus. At present the membership consists of about seventy pupils. The chorus has sung on several occasions.

In November, several members of the English classes took part in a skit for the Better English Program, sponsored by the English department.

Each semester the junior high classes present an assembly program. Each class is responsible for one part of the program. This entertainment is greatly enjoyed by all students and is looked forward to.

FOOTBALL

The '34-'35 football season got under way on the very first day of school. With 47 players returning, including 18 lettermen, Coaches Wilson and Olmsted didn't need a crystal gazer to tell them their prospects for the coming 8 games. The results of the majority of the games, on paper were not so good, but every game this year was a moral victory in itself; it showed, and brought out the Bulldog instinct of our stalwarts.

The Bulldogs were captained, not by one, but by two equally fitted Bulldogs. As a result of an unbreakable tie last year, Jack Keeton and Augustine Hernandez were chosen captains and handled the job in first class order. In the first game of the season Augustine broke several bones in his right hand. Keeton acted alone as captain for the next five games, but Hernandez was back for the last three games.

Due to the lack of beef on the eleven this year, Coach Wilson had to revert to speed in the backfield with Keeton, Hernandez, Clarke, and Patterson doing most of the ball carrying. The line, also lacking weight, was whipped into shape by Coach Olmsted, and carried out its assignments very well under the circumstances.

SCHEDULE

Winslow	7	Gallup	6
Winslow	0	Globe	18
Winslow	0	Jerome	14
Winslow	2	St. Johns	0
Winslow	0	Clarkdale	0
Winslow	0	Prescott	2
Winslow	6	Holbrook	0
Winslow	0	Flagstaff	7

As the tradition goes, Winslow opened her football season with the Gallup Tigers here on the home grid iron.

Gallup brought over an aggregation who, having had one more week of practice than the Bulldogs, were slight favorites to win. Both teams lacked weight so it was 'victory to the swiftest', and there was plenty of action. The passing was, as all first season form is, a bit ragged, several passes being incomplete. Gallup ran straight for a touchdown in a second quarter rally, but failed to convert for the extra point. This seemed to infuriate the Bulldogs into attempted vengeance, for in the third quarter Winslow swept down the field to score, and due to Geoglein's drop kick, added the extra point, winning 7-6.

On the kick-off of this game Augustine broke his hand. It didn't seem to bother him until after half of the second quarter, when Coach Wilson sent in a substitute.

GLOBE

As a second pre-season game, the Bulldogs played Globe, a team out weighing the Bulldogs 28 pounds to the man. To this add an all-state man and you have a team that far out-ranked a pre-season, in-experienced light team.

As a result the Globe boys stopped all of Winslow's thrusts at the goal line, while they scored once in the second and twice in the third quarter. However they failed to convert after each touchdown, making the final score 18-0.

JEROME

The Muckers furnished the Bulldogs with their first conference game. As usual the Muckers had plenty of weight on the forward wall, and speed in the backfield.

The first half was a deadlock, being played between the two 30 yard lines, with one exception: a pass for the Bulldogs put the ball on the Mucker's 20 yard line. But that was as far as it went. The second half was a whirlwind. It started off by Winslow kicking off for the east sidelines and streaked straight down the border line for the first score of the game in the first few seconds of the second half. Winslow retaliated by a slow march up the field but didn't get very far. In the first of the fourth quarter two completed passes put Jerome within scoring position again, and on a long end run they again crossed the Bulldog's goal line. After both touchdowns the conversions were successful.

ST. JOHNS

The St. Johns' game, the second conference game, was forfeited by St. Johns the night before the game was to be played, thus giving Winslow a 2-0 victory.

CLARKDALE

In a slow game, played at Clarkdale, in which fumbling took a leading part, neither Clarkdale nor Winslow could keep its fingers on the ball long enough to score. However, late in the last quarter Clarkdale completed a pass for a score but as it was off sides the play was called back. There were many penalties called for off-sides on both teams.

PRESCOTT

Before the largest crowd of fans of the year, here at Winslow, Prescott scampered through with a 2-0 score.

During the first half Winslow rushed the Badgers off their feet and threatened the Badger goal line twice, but the final punch never came. The lone score came in the third quarter; the result of a seemingly invincible attack of the Badgers, but when the going got tough, the Bulldogs got tougher. The ball went to Winslow on the 30 yard line; two penalties against the Bulldogs put the ball on their own 10 yard line, where two Badgers blocked Keeton's kick, and the ball rolled over the goal line and then out of bounds, giving Prescott their 2-0 score.

HOLBROOK

On a slow, sandy field, the Bulldogs took the better end of a 6-0 victory over the Holbrook Roadrunners in Holbrook on November third.

During the first half Winslow couldn't get going, so Holbrook did most of the running during that period. The talley for Winslow came in the third quarter through Keeton's 40 yard run to Holbrook's 10 yard line; then a pass from Keeton to Simmons rolled up the winning score. Late in the fourth quarter Holbrook seemed to start a determined rally, but it was too late.

FLAGSTAFF

In the annual Armistice Day fray, the highly rated Flagstaff Eagles went home with a 7-0 victory.

Except for a fumbled lateral in the first 3 minutes of the game, and Flagstaff's recovery on the Bulldog's five yard line, the game would have had a different ending. From the five yard line Flagstaff went over the goal line in two line bucks for the winning tally. This was the one and only time Flagstaff was within our 25 yard line. This game, the last of the season for Winslow, saw a passing combination that worked like an oiled machine; Keeton to Augustine or vice versa; it made no difference. Patterson played a good game and by his decoy work of pulling the halfback out of position made these passes possible. Flagstaff tried to get going, but only one touchdown ran over the Bulldog's goal line that day.

To Flagstaff's 59 yards, gained through scrimmage, Winslow rolled up 385 yards, and to 3 first downs for the Eagles, the record shows 8 for the Bulldogs.

This game was a fitting climax for a good, but very unlucky football season, the last for nine seniors.

BASKETBALL

The second major sport of the year, basketball, opened with a bang. The first squad was composed of Augustine Hernandez, Jack Keeton, Philip Dietz, Boyd Shumway, Alfred Patterson, Bill Dooks, Sharman Jensen, Aristeo Romero, and Vernie Martin. Coach Wilson brushed up a smooth working quintet out of the first five above mentioned.

Captaining this year's squad was a veteran of 4 years of basketball, Augustine Hernandez. In every instance he turned in outstanding performances, thereby proving himself capable of the job and honor.

The Bulldog's first season performances were not up to par; but as the team hit mid-season form, nothing could stop them. In starting the conference season Winslow took easy wins from Williams and Seligman; but in the next encounter, with the Jerome Muckers, here on the home court, the game turned out in favor of the visitors. Next came Holbrook at Holbrook, who very decisively told the Bulldogs that they would beat them and they did--but not until the closing minutes of the game. Flagstaff, at Flagstaff, proved to be a formidable foe by beating Winslow, this game also being a last minute win. The proposed trip to Williams, Clarkdale, and to Phoenix had to be cancelled because of the illness of several players and Coach Wilson. The team played only Williams, who took a one point win over the handicapped Bulldogs. With sickness all cleared up, the Bulldogs journeyed to Jerome; and for the first time since 1926, the Bulldogs beat a Mucker team, and what is more --on the Muckers' court. With this victory under paw, the Bulldogs very decisively told the Eagles that they were looking for a few feathers to play with. And did they get their feathers? I'll say they did! As a climax to the season Holbrook played here, and for the second time this season defeated Winslow, thereby winning an invitation to the State tournament along with Jerome to represent Northern Arizona.

At the Northern Arizona Tournament the old dope bucket, as usual, didn't know what it was talking about. Round Valley breezed through McNary, Clarkdale, and Williams to the finals. Flagstaff ran over St. Johns and Mayer to the semi-finals. Winslow blasted Payson and Prescott to meet Flagstaff in the semi-finals. This was the best game of the tournament. Flagstaff came out on top, thereby meeting Round Valley for the tournament. Round Valley easily trimmed the Eagles; hence, they won the tournament, and another year of Bulldog Basketball history came to a close.

TRACK

Coach Olmsted, on looking over his track turnout of 43 stalwarts, knew that in the meets to come that he need not worry as to the showing the Bulldogs would make.

Bill Clarke, dash man, was chosen captain of the '35 squad, and a better selection could not have been made. He carried out his duties to perfection.

A summary of the season shows:

Dash men . . . . .	B. Clarke; E. Bell; R. Andrews; T. Metcalfe; D. Andrade
Long Distance Men. . . . .	A. Hernandez; P. Munoz; R. Edwards

GOLF

In the annual golf tournament, to determine the golfer to represent the school in the tournaments, Lee Hill came out on top with a card of 92 for the new 18 hole course. Bill Clarke came in second with 94 strokes, but due to his participation in track, Bill Doms, third man in the tryout, was Lee Hill's partner.

In the golf tournament at the Winslow Invitational Track Meet, this team came out victorious over four other teams.

TENNIS

The Tennis Tournament was also played off at the Inter Class Tournament.

In the singles, Harry Simmons waded through his classmates to take first, while in the doubles, a junior team, composed of Archie Mickle and Jack Duke defeated the other classes.

At the Winslow Invitational Track Meet, the doubles team came out second. Harry Simmons was defeated by B. L. Hicks of Gallup in the semi-finals.

SWIMMING TOURNAMENT

For the first time in the history of W. H. S. an Inter-Class Swimming Tournament was held. The points won in this contest counted in determining the class that is to win the Inter-Class Championship.

The contest was held at Clear Creek, September 15. By this time of year the water was beginning to cool off considerably, but the enthusiasm created over the event made up for that.

For the dashes, a raft was placed in the middle of the Creek 50 yards from the west side of the bridge as a starting point; the finish being the bridge itself. This made an excellent straight-way for these events. The diving board on the west side of the bridge, which is 8 feet high, was used for the low diving, while for the men's high dive the super structure of the bridge was used, 35 feet high. For the long distance swim, the course was from the dam to the bridge.

Results:

High point man was Jim Bly with 13 points, while for the girls Virginia Farnsworth carried away the honors with 10 points. The Seniors won the meet, with the Juniors second, Sophomores and Freshmen trailing.

This event, through its initial success, promises to be an annual event. The contestants will, no doubt, do some intensive practicing this summer to help their class carry off the honors in the fall.

INTRA-MURAL SPORTS

In addition to the regular sports activities, the high school conducted a tournament of Intra-mural sports. Points were given in these to be used in determining the All-Around school championship.

The swim meet was the first activity. Immediately following that, touch football was played. Points given for the first place: 10; for second place: 6; third place: 3; and fourth place: 2. The freshmen came out first; the juniors placing second; the seniors, third; and the sophomores, fourth. These games were played on our own field, during physical education periods.

The third event was basketball. The seniors placed first, with the freshmen close behind; sophomores third, and juniors fourth. These games were also run off during physical education period and were played in the auditorium. Points distributed for this athletic adventure were as follows: first, 10; second, 6; third, 4; and fourth, 2.

The fourth activity on the schedule was volley ball which followed close on the heels of basketball. This was the only sport in which we did not have student referees. Mr. Wilson, Mr. Ward, and Mr. Booth were the referees. First place was taken by the seniors; second place, juniors; third place, sophomores and fourth place, freshmen. The points were the same as in football and basketball.

Track and Field were run off next with the seniors again taking first place; juniors, second; freshmen, third, and sophomores, fourth. The points were the same also in this activity.

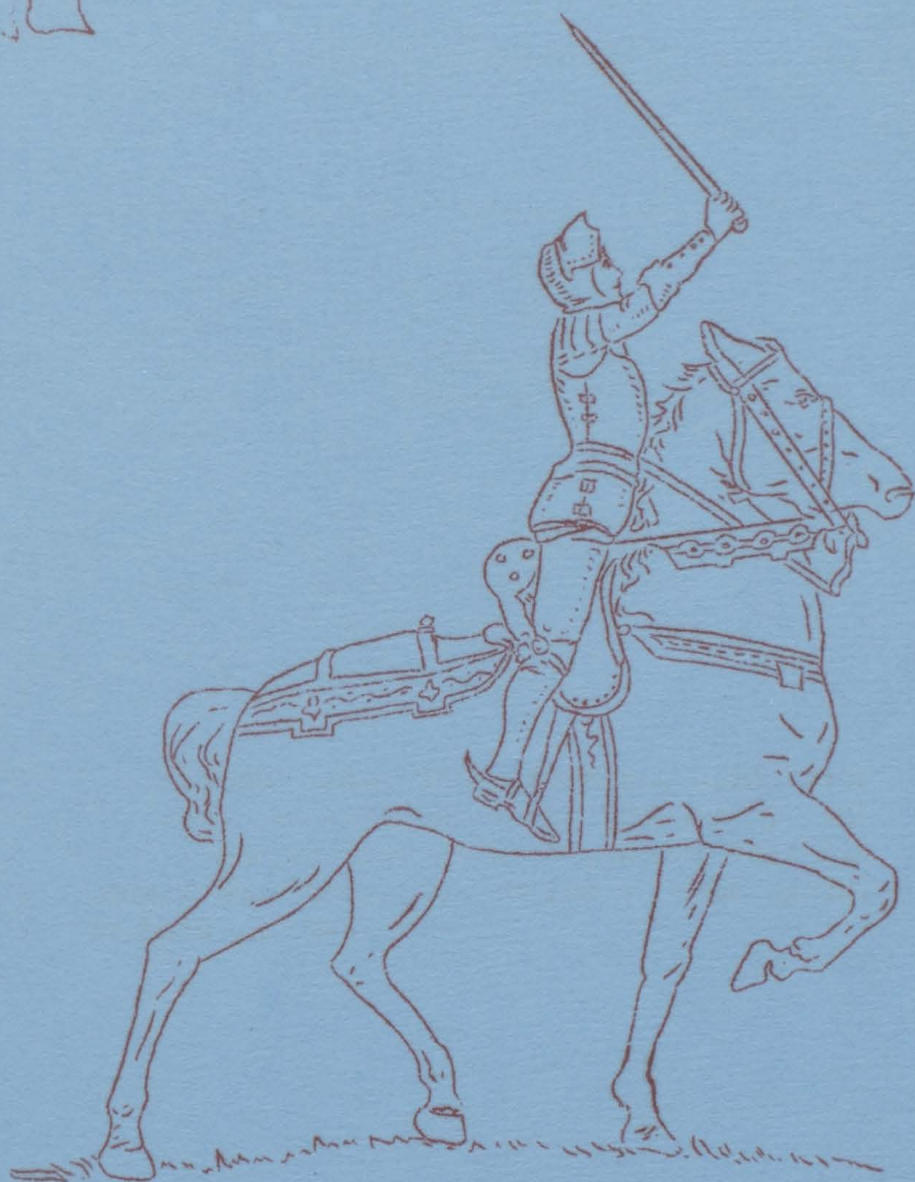

The sixth event of the season was tennis. Harry Simmons won first place for the seniors; Robert Andrews for the juniors, giving them second place; Jack Brennan for the juniors, and Merlin Jensen for the freshmen. Doubles were won by the juniors, first; seniors, second; sophomores, third; and freshmen, fourth.

Golf was the last event of the season, and was run off in April. The seniors placed first, and the juniors second. There were no teams entered from the other classes. The team winning this tournament was entered in the Winslow Invitational Track Meet. The points for golf and tennis were the same. First place, 3; second place, 2; third place, 1; and fourth place  $\frac{1}{2}$ .

The student council had charge of these intra-class sports this year, and student referees were furnished for all but the volley ball tournament. Although soft ball and horseshoes were played during the spring, no definite teams were entered and the scores were not counted.

STUDENT COUNCIL

This organization began a very successful year last September with James Bly, president; Harriet Richardson, vice-president; Joan Grim, secretary; Archie Mickle, treasurer; and Roderick McClung, editor of the paper. Elma Bush was appointed treasurer on the resignation of Archie Mickle.

In September the Council sponsored a first annual swimming meet which proved to be the greatest success of all the inter-class meets. About 50 contestants entered and each class placed in several events. This was the only inter-class event in which both boys and girls were entered.

During the year the Council also sponsored other inter-class events including: basketball, volley ball, football, track and golf. The seniors won the first place for boys and juniors first place for girls.

The Council also had various committees take charge of the gate receipts for all the football, basketball and track meets. The bulletin board and the Lost and Found Department were handled by the Council with a great deal of success.

In December the Council decided to sponsor an all-school carnival. Each class and organization in the Junior-Senior High School was asked to sponsor a booth or concession. After much hard work and more cooperation than was ever shown among the students, the Carnival was given on February 1. By a popular election of the students, a king and a queen of the Carnival were selected: Fred Yoder, king, and Betty Stiles, queen. The Council had charge of a one hour floor show and dance. The profit was nearly one hundred and fifty dollars. This money was placed in a fund to buy a moving picture machine. The Carnival has been looked upon as the biggest event of the year, and all are looking forward to next year's Carnival.

On February 2, with the assistance of the local business men and the entire city, the Council sponsored "Boys Week" with the high school boys taking the important positions of the city. Jim Bly acted as Mayor with the support of Fred Yoder, Harry Simmons, Danny McBride, Homer Ferguson, Buddy O'Hara, and John Watts as Councilmen and Ted Willey as secretary.

In the early part of January the President received an invitation from Mesa Union High School asking him to attend a State meeting of high school presidents. The Winslow High School Honor Society was a direct result of this meeting. In March, the President attended another meeting of student body presidents, this time at ASTC at Tempe; many other good ideas were brought back by the President from this convention also.

During the year the girls of the Council gave a luncheon and the boys returned the courtesy by giving a picnic at Clear Creek.

On the twenty-third of April the Council had charge of the annual school picnic, which was held at Chaves Pass. Each student was required to pay 25¢ to attend and about 130 students were there. The menu consisted of hot dogs, baked beans, potato salad, ice cream "lolly pops", and coffee. The morning and afternoon were spent playing baseball, volleyball, horse-shoes, and climbing the surrounding mountains and exploring the nearby lakes.

As the annual goes to press, plans are formulating for the election of the Council officers for the year 1935-36.

WINSLOW HONOR SOCIETY

During the first three months of 1935, the President of the Student Council and a few helpers worked hard to work out the idea of a Winslow Honor Society to be based on the three principles: scholarship, leadership, and service. In early March the Council voted to organize such a society.

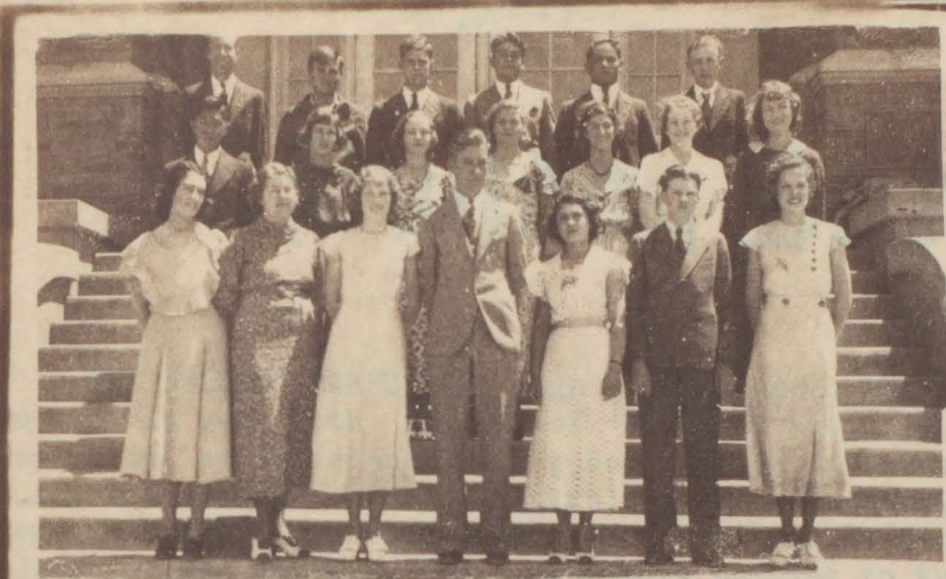

A committee of three acting with Mr. Booth drew up a constitution for this organization. It was accepted by the Council and received a great deal of praise from the Mesa Chapter which was sponsoring a drive for Honor Societies in the State.

By the latter part of March a secret committee had investigated the members of the Senior Class and had chosen twelve members which were the upper twenty-five per cent of that class in the three principles. In early April these members met and selected their officers and the junior members of the Society.

They elected Harry Simmons, president; Roderick McClung, vice president and Regina Smith, secretary-treasurer.

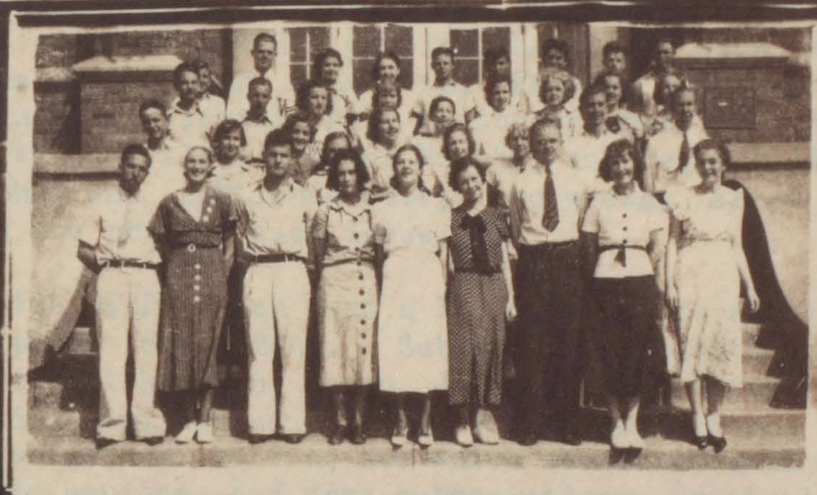

The other members of the Society are Bill Courtney, Jim Bly, Elma Bush, Aristeo Romero, Harriet Richardson, Eleanor Martini, Angela Aranda, Joe Kawasaki, Ted Willey, Mary Margaret LaZear, Florence Woelk, Jason Richardson, Helen Bazell, Rosalie Bennett, Julia Smith, Ida Neu, and Jack Duke.

Bulldog Barks

THE BULLDOG BARKS, the high school paper, introduced many new features this year with the aid of Roderick McClung, as Editor-in Chief; Joan Grim, as Assistant Editor; Bob Brennan, announcing the Sports; Elma Bush, commenting on world affairs; Lucille Bostick, doing the art work; Peggy Mahoney, rewriting other reports; Rosalie Bennett, (next year's editor) doing anything from substitute editing to typing; Julia Smith, finding front page news; Emogene Sorensen and Helen Dean Gray, keeping the underclassmen on the map; Mrs. Winn, getting the Junior High news reports written; and the Junior High Reporters; Frances Santosteban, Buddy Stockwell, Harry Antonio, Virginia Day, Burton Sprankle, Frankie Edwards, Mary Schmitz, Mary M. Stiles, Thomas Murphy, and Peggy Willey. This paper is mimeographed and published every two weeks. About one hundred and eighty copies are printed each issue.

Another division of the staff which does a lot of work and receives no credit is the subscription department. Subscription agents are: Charles Oare, Ida Neu, Bill Richardson, Lenna Jensen, Jimmy Kline, Nagashi Yamamoto, Louis Mullins, Emi Matsuda, Buddy Stockwell. At the beginning of every year a contest is held to see which class can sell the most papers. Although the seniors had more subscriptions eventually, the juniors had the greatest number on the last day of the contest; hence they gained the privilege of publishing the next to the last edition. As is the custom, the seniors printed the Farewell Paper, in which all the work was done by the seniors. THE BULLDOG BARKS gained many helpful ideas from the other schools with which we exchange.

Several new features were incorporated in this year's paper. One of the most interesting of these was the life-like caricatures of prominent students by Lucille Bostick. Elma Bush and Eleanor Martini brought an intellectual touch to the publication through their "Books" and "E. Bush Sez." An old feature that was treated with much vim, vigor and vitality, was the "Sports" by post-graduate Robert Brennan.

Although the staff was not regularly assisted by a sponsor, Miss Kerlin's journalism instruction in English IV, and the help given by Miss Panton were greatly appreciated.

ANNUAL STAFF

Early in the fall of 1934, when the Senior Class was organizing its activities for the year, an annual was decided upon. The custom of this school has been to publish an annual every two years. Since the last annual, "The Meteor" had been produced in 1933, it was our turn to give such a book to the school.

It was also decided, at this time, that the annual should be mimeographed, due to lack of funds for a printed book. By doing this we could do all the work here at school, using our mimeograph machine and have the work done entirely by students.

During the first few weeks of the second semester, definite steps were taken to further this desire. Clare Cravath was elected editor-in-chief, and within a few days she announced her staff. It consisted of Betty Reeder, class editor; Robert Brennan, athletics; Harriet Richardson, society; Bill Doms, photographs; and Virginia Farnsworth, art. A meeting of this staff was held and a definite program was decided upon. Assignments were made and a big step had been taken towards the 1935 annual.

Early in the spring, write-ups started coming in. After these went through the process of correction and proof reading, stencils were ready to be cut.

When the weather permitted, Bill Doms started taking pictures and advertising for negatives for miscellaneous picture pages. The seniors had their pictures made at the Studio Grand, but it was decided by the staff, that the remainder of the classes should have their pictures made here at school, by our photographers. Pictures were taken at the school picnic and of other activities of the school. Due to the rainy weather, none were taken on Senior Ditch Day.

After much hard work on the part of the staff and those helping, the annual began to take form, and in the latter part of May was completed. We wish to take this last opportunity to thank those faculty members who helped and advised us.

We feel that "The Meteor" is a real success. The work has been done by students, with the help of Mr. Booth; and we give this book to you, as a remembrance of the Seniors of 1935.

Carnival

"Bulldog Rumpus"

The seed thought of having a high school carnival, which was planted in the minds of W. H. S. students several years ago, burst forth into glorious bloom on the night of February 1, 1935.

On that eventful evening, Winslow High School was transformed from a great red brick building into a real carnival ground including all the bright crepe paper streamers, balloons, and dancing lights necessary to make it attractive. The halls were lined with candy and pop corn tables, hot dog stands, and dart throwing booths.

Above the din of the crowd could be heard the loud voices of the side show barkers, each calling forth the merits of his own particular show. Attracting the largest crowd was the room in which the Dionne Quintuplets and their accessories, including both doctors and nurses, were housed. The Haunted House made every one who entered feel "shivery" long after they saw light again. Outstanding for its effectiveness was the Oriental Tea Room with its dim lanterns and costumed serving girls and fortune tellers.

The floor show itself added not a little to the evenings entertainment. But the climax of the evening came with the crowning of the King and Queen. These rulers had been elected the afternoon before, but no one knew which candidates had won, except Mr. Booth, until the moment of the crowning. Betty Stiles made a very charming Queen and Fred Yoder looked indeed majestic upon his royal throne.

At 12:30 came the strains of "Home Sweet Home" winding up the first annual "Bulldog Rumpus". (Everyone agreed that it must be annual.)

GIRL'S TRIO

The Girl's Trio is composed of Willie Barner, Helen Bostwick, and Marjorie Mullins, accompanied by Regina Smith. They have appeared before the Rotary Club, and assemblies.

BOY'S QUARTET

The quartet has been very popular this year with concerts and various assemblies. The members are: Fred Yoder, Robert Gilpin, William O'Hara, and Tony Armijo, with Orville Barnhart as alternate. We are very proud of the boys for placing first at the contest. Their accompanist is Julia Smith.

BRASS QUARTET

The Brass Quartet is composed of Fred Yoder, Robert Gilpin, Roy Ketrang, and Richard Godsell. They received first honors at the contest this year. Their accompanist is Julia Smith.

STRING GROUP

The string group has been in existence about four years and have done comparatively well considering their lack of experience.

They have gone to the contest for two years, and although they did not place, they tried hard, and accepted their defeat gracefully.

This year it is composed of:

Helen Bazell . . . . .	First Violin
Beth Hatch . . . . .	Second Violin
Alice Hildeman . . . . .	Third Violin
Robert Keeney) . . . . .	Fourth Violin
Edward Bell )
Kathleen Smith . . . . .	Piano

BAND

The band of '35 is one of the best we have had in Winslow High. They kept up the reputation of Winslow bands by placing first at the contest. The members are:

Frank Nelson	Kenneth Keeney	Ted Willey
Richard Godsell	Gabriel Rodriguez	Max Teaford
Leslie Rhodes	Fred Yoder	Billy Richardson
Jack Brown	Charles McPhetridge	Joan Sughrue
Willard Recordon	Eugene Werner	Julia Smith

SPEECH ACTIVITIES

During the spring, the Public Speaking Class finds its main interest in two of its major speech activities. These are the orations and class debates.

The orations were the first work done by the students. It has been a custom here to have a public contest of the six best speakers in the class. The final contest held in the evening for public attendance was for the purpose of selecting the three best speakers in oratory. Those honored in the final selections were Harry Simmons, first, whose speech was entitled "Putty"; Ted Willey, second speaker, whose speech was entitled "The Lion and the Lamb Shall Lie Together"; and third speaker, Daniel McBride, who talked on the "Child Labor Disgrace." The awards given these people were money prizes of 3-2-1 respectively.

The class debates were composed of debate subjects and teams as follows: Resolved, That the International Shipment of Arms Should be Prohibited. The affirmative team was James Armstrong and Esther Hutch, and the negative team: Vernie Martin and Marcella Young. Second debate was resolved, That the United States Should Join the World Court Without Reservations. Affirmative speakers were Joe Kawasaki and Elma Bush and negative Gordon Baber and Robert Gilpin. Third debate was resolved, that the Ethics of Modern Advertising are Detrimental to Public Health and Safety. Affirmative speakers were Harry Simmons and Azalea Miller and negative, Roy Kotring and Betty Pohland. Fourth debate was resolved that the Child Labor Amendment Should be Adopted. Affirmative speakers were Daniel McBride and Fred Krobs and negative, Bill Clarke and Peggy Mahoney. The last debate was resolved, that Chain Stores are Detrimental to the Public. Affirmative speakers were Jack Keeton, Emile Recordon and Fred Yoder and negative Ed Rudd and Bill Courtney.

In all five debates the winning team was the affirmative side. The Oregon method of debate was used for the first time by the class.

Two debate teams, coached by Miss Oare, and composed of Roderick McClung, and Ted Willey, Regina Smith and Eleanor Martini, went to Flagstaff in February with high hopes of returning victorious. Each of these teams debated in three rounds against teams from Flagstaff and Snowflake. In the finals it was decided that Winslow had been defeated by Snowflake. However, this was not discouraging as the Winslow team had been debating continuously all afternoon.

Even though Winslow was defeated, Roderick McClung was considered the most outstanding debater in both delivery and thought by the college teachers, and debate coaches.

The question debated was, Resolved: That the Nations Should Agree to Prevent the International Shipment of Arms.

MISS W. H. S. CONTEST

Each year that an annual is produced by the students of Winslow High School, a popularity contest is held. Up until this year, it has been conducted on a commercial basis--a penny being one vote for the candidate. However, this year it was decided that the contest should be held in the school and the contestants would be voted for in a general assembly.

In home room, the week before the contest, the most popular girl was selected and entered as a candidate. Her business managers made signs to be put up around school and devised different methods of campaigning to be used.

The girls chosen were: Harriet Richardson from the Senior Class; Mary Margaret La Zear from the Junior Class; Betty Stiles from the Sophomore Class, and Helen Dean Gray from the Freshman Class.

In a high school assembly, held for this purpose, these candidates were voted upon, and the Senior candidate won. This was very unusual because this is the first time in many years that a senior has been elected to this position of honor.

PEP SQUAD

The pep squad started off with a bang this year by electing thirteen new members into the club. The grilling week of initiation, in which the "rats" proved they could take it, was wound up with a theater party, of course the "rats" payed for the tickets and for the refreshments afterward.

Outfits play a very important part in the organization. Their feminity asserted itself when they vetoed the bill for having slacks as the year before. Maroon skirts were chosen instead. They also added perky little maroon tams. Every one liked the idea of having her own mascot, so they each have a felt bulldog tacked to their sweaters.

A wide variety of assemblys were given--from songs to one-act plays. The rallies were pronounced as good as ever. They can't be beat!

Under the direction of Pres. H. Richardson the girls learned and performed several clever field drills, something which they had never attempted before.

Twice during the athletic season the girls had a yen for dancing, so dancing it was. Once after the Flagstaff football game, the other after the Holbrook basketball game.

We are losing some of our senior girls this year, but will have new members again the first of the year. We hate to see them go, but we want to wish them success, and hope they will always be as full of pep as they were while they were with us.

THE "W" CLUB

The "W" Club of Winslow High School met at the beginning of school term and elected the following officers:

Ernest Nixdorf, president; Jack Keeton, vice-president; and Charles McPhetridge, treasurer.

The club consists of those who have earned a letter in any athletic activity. In September there were only four members who had been initiated the previous year, however, eleven more were now eligible for membership.

After the football season was over, the membership was increased to twenty-two, which is the total number now.

This organization, which stands for sportsmanship and fair play, is under the very capable leadership of the coaches, Wilson and Olmstead.

PEP SQUAD DANCES

This year the Pep Squad sponsored two dances. Both proved very successful.

The first was held after the Flagstaff-Winslow football game, November 12. The members of the squad decorated the auditorium attractively with goal posts at each end of green and brown and maroon and white. Streamers of the colors of the two schools fenced off the side lines on either side of the room. Brayman's orchestra provided the music for the evening's entertainment. Many students from both Flagstaff and Winslow attended the dance.

The second dance took place after the Holbrook-Winslow basketball game, on Thursday, February 21. Admission was charged for this dance. Brayman's orchestra again furnished the music. A large crowd was present and the Pep Squad netted several dollars.

JUNIOR PROM

On the night of May 17th, 1935, the student body, their parents, and the others, lucky enough to receive invitations were transported the minute they entered the auditorium to the land of cherry blossoms. So realistic were these cherry blossoms that one could almost smell their fragrance. While the sides of the dance floor were lined with the blossoms, the ceiling was a variegated canopy of pink. Twinkling among the blossoms were little Japanese lanterns, adding glamour to the atmosphere. Everyone agreed that, all in all, it was a very successful dance.

SENIOR HOP

The seniors, this year, added another credit to their names when they gave the "Good Luck" Hop. Perhaps it was the atmosphere created by various good luck charms suspended from the ceiling, or maybe it was the music furnished by the well known Arcadians that made the dance such a huge success.

Small white elephants were given each guest in hope of bringing him good luck in the future. Each guest declared, upon leaving, that he had enjoyed himself and only hoped that the Hops in the future would be as highly successful.

School Picnic

After a great deal of making up of minds and changing them again, the date for the school picnic was selected. It was rather difficult to decide on one that did not conflict with other activities, however, Tuesday, the twenty-third of April was chosen.

The day proved to be somewhat cloudy but since nothing discourages this hearty bunch of students, about one hundred and thirty-five or forty of them set out, with teachers and alumni, for Chaves Pass.

Before the last car load had arrived the first arrivals had put up volley ball nets, driven horse-shoe posts and marked off a baseball diamond. It was indeed a scene of bustling activity. Those who preferred hiking to games took their cameras and seven league boots and were not seen until lunch time.

Lunch was served about twelve o'clock, the menu of which consisted of baked beans, hot dogs, potato salad, buns, and of course, milk nickles. (They were, we have an idea, ordered as a special treat for Mr. Potthoff.) Whether the freshmen didn't like the first courses, or whether they preferred to save their appetites for the dessert, is a difficult question, but they certainly devoured their share in a hurry.

The afternoon was spent in the continuation of games, while some of the students took excursions to Hay Lake, Cow Trap, and other nearby points of interest. During the course of the afternoon, it was discovered that Mr. Grioder, Mr. Potthoff, and Mr. Ward were star horse shoe players.

Late in the afternoon, the picnickers began to straggle back to town and by six o'clock practically everyone had returned, tired but with a feeling of satisfaction. The Winslow High School picnic had been a huge success.

Ditch Day

In the early morning of May 3, while their under classmates were peacefully slumbering, the "high'n mighty" seniors were wending their way toward Oak Creek Canyon.

The juniors, sophomores, and freshmen upon arriving at school were greatly surprised to find a huge black crepe bow draped over the front door. Immediately they suspected the reason, and upon entering their class-rooms became convinced-----it was Senior Ditch Day, for the black-boards were covered with excellent drawings, clever remarks, and strict instructions. Many mourned, others cheered, but all admitted that the school day was dreary.

But on to the seniors and their picnic. It was decided that they should leave about seven o'clock, but some of the students thought they meant eight, or they overslept. How about it Billy Dooms? Anyway, they got started about eight and drove to Flagstaff in the rain. However, it was nice in Flagstaff, so they decided to continue on to Oak Creek.

Immediately upon arriving, the class yell seemed to be: "When do we eat?" Fires were quickly built and dinner prepared. The menu consisted of steak, potato salad, potato chips, cake, coffee and olives. Each person played chef for himself and the remainder of the dinner was served from the main table.

About the time dinner was over it began to hail, but everyone seemed to have enough to eat and were ready to hibernate into the cars. Unpleasant weather prevented the exploring of the canyon, so they contented themselves by viewing the scenery from the road.

On the return trip, the whole congregation stopped at Dean Eldridge's museum and spent a pleasant two hours observing and asking questions. It was really the best part of the trip, except of course, the eats!

Now, underclassmen, don't grieve because you haven't had a ditch day. Remember, "Every dog has his day", and your's is coming up.

SENIOR-FACULTY PICNIC

About five o'clock on a sunny afternoon in October, several cars drove away from the school. They contained members of the Senior Class and the Faculty of the High School. The occasion: Seniors entertaining the faculty; The destination: Clear Creek.

The menu included hot dogs, baked beans, potato salad, cake, coffee, and marshmallows. After supper, the faculty members were called upon for a stunt and then members of the class entertained for a while.

The picnickers, on the short ride back to town, agreed that this had been indeed a revealing occasion. Much faculty and student talent was unearthed.

KID DAY

On April 22, the seniors showed that they had not forgotten any of their childhood pranks.

All seniors (for a rule was made forbidding a senior who did not participate in Kid Day to go on Ditch Day) appeared in their "kid" togs. Even the sponsors were dressed for the occasion; Miss Naysmith as farm girl and Mr. Booth as a Kansas farm boy.

The girls wore short dresses or rompers; all had hair ribbons and carried a doll or teddy bear. The boys wore short trousers or rompers. The most popular mode of travel seemed to be roller skates or little red wagons; while all day suckers were the pièce de résistance of the day.

During the morning an assembly was called to allow the "high'n mighty" upperclassmen to "show-off". Nursery rhymes and new versions of old jingles were recited by several persons who were grown up!

Everyone agreed that this was one of the most successful "Kid Days" any Senior Class of W. H. S. has ever conducted.

FOOTBALL BANQUET

On the evening of December nineteenth, thirty boys of the football squad, accompanied by their parents and the girls of the Pep Squad, attended a delicious turkey dinner. This banquet, given at the La Posada by the mothers of the boys, was to celebrate the close of a not altogether successful football season. The favors, made by Mr. Stone, were replicas of the Pep Squad girls. The "high'n mighty" seniors had one table to themselves and were treated with great respect, in fact they received two desserts. After the dinner wise cracks were rendered by Coach J. B. Wilson. These were interspersed by talks from Coach Olmsted, Mr. Booth, Mr. Grieder, Co-Captains, Augustine Hernandez and Jack Keeton, and the members of the football squad. At the conclusion of these talks eighteen members of the squad were awarded their letters and Alfred (Tiger) Patterson was elected to lead them through the next football season.

JUNIOR FRESHMEN DANCE

It is the custom of the Junior Class and the Freshmen Class to combine forces and give a dance for the school. This year it was given just before Christmas and the decorations were in the holiday spirit. Red and green predominated, and a large Christmas tree decorated one end of the hall. The holiday season was indeed, near at hand. Lloyd's orchestra provided the music, and the dance lasted until twelve o'clock.

Those making the arrangements and carrying out the plans were: Marcella Young, Willie Barner and Danny McBride. The dance was attended by many former students of W. H. S., home for the holidays.

SENIOR BANQUET

One of the last social functions of the year was held the evening of May 29, when the Class of 1935 had their banquet at the beautiful La Posada. The dinner was served in the main dining room with a background of soft lights. Dainty favors marked the places of the members of the class and a delicious dinner was served. At the conclusion of the meal, the class motored to the theatre where they were the guests of Mr. Parks, the manager.

SENIOR CLASS WILL

We, the Senior Class of 1935, of Winslow High School, being of sound and generous state of mind, and realizing the proximity of our departure from the aforesaid institution of learning, hereby declare this to be our last will and testament. To our less fortunate school mates, and other associates, we generously bequeath the following:

ITEM-I To our principal, Mr. Grieder, we leave our heartfelt gratitude for the kind guidance he has given us in the past four years.

ITEM-II To the faculty we leave our sincere thanks and kindest memories.

ITEM-III To the juniors we bequeath our high rank among students and classes in Winslow High School.

ITEM-IV To the sophomores we leave our winning ways.

ITEM-V To you, oh green freshmen, we leave our forgiveness and original expressions.

ITEM-VI And, as individuals of the graduating class of 1935, we bequeath the following:

Bill courtney most graciously presents Frances Seltz with his far-reaching grin.

Roderick McClung leaves his 'hefty' stride to Ben Donnelly.

Joan Grim wills her gift of gab to Ralph Goeglein.

Vernie Martin leaves his altitude to Charles Kline. (Charlie always had high opinions).

Harry Simmons, being of a generous heart, leaves his harem to Billy Richardson.

Mary Lee wills her Florida "lingo" to Willie Barner. (Pardon her Southern accents).

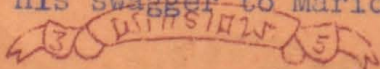

Esther Futch leaves to Marjorie Yarnell her "Ode on the Intimations of Imitation Hair Coloring." (How's she doing Wordsworth?).

Joe Kawasaki wills his dignity to Leslie Wolfe.

Harriet Richardson wills her popularity to Helen Dean Gray.

Augustine Hernandez wills his athletic stardom to Charles McPhetridge.

Emil Recordon leaves his swagger to Marion Ewan.

Jim Bly leaves his chiseling ability and qualities of leadership to Jason Richardson.

Virginia Farnsworth unselfishly presents Helen Bostwick her ability to hit 'high A' with the greatest of ease.

Jack Keeton gives Johnnie Watts his autobiograpny entitled "Meditations While Making a Basket Before the Eyes of The Best Looking Blond of The Whole Darn Bunch Of 'Em."

Roy Ketring willfully leaves his jokes to Max Teaford.

Ernie Nixdorf leaves Tommy Metcalf, his recipes for "Best" Milwaukee Mixtures--Any Why."

Regina Smith leaves her Civics Units to the whole of the coming Senior Class.

Fred Yoder wills Danny McBride the presidency of the Senior Class.

Elma Bush wills Lucille Brown a little booklet entitled "Permanent Relief for Poundage-Poor People."

Eleanor Martini gives Alfred Patterson her literary Knowledge.

Ed. Rudd, with all due process of formality, does hereby will to Bud O'Hara, all his spoofy, spirited and spontaneous replies to the nosy inquiries of certain faculty members.

Peggy Mahoney wishes to present Florence Woelk with a perfectly good set of eyebrows.

Bill Doms bequeaths Archie Meikle his middle name--Omar, so that Archie's name will then read 'Archibald Omar Meikle'.

Gordon Baber leaves his ability to make friends quickly to Willard Recordon.

Tombo Kaufman gives his ability to bother Miss Oare to Piere Haumont.

Azclea Miller bestows her pretty and usable lips upon Mary Margaret LaZear.

Mildred Brown leaves Pauline Dooley her love for going to the dentist.

Billy Clarke wills his track rules and regulations to the track team of '35 and '36.

Clare Cravath leaves this completed annual to the Student Body, as a product of her well earned Editorship.

Betty Reeder leaves her hurried (?) footsteps to Helen Dean Gray.

Mary Alice Gray wills, with all due fondness, her ways with Fred Krebs to Peggy Kleindienst.

Dolores Kelchner leaves her love and best wishes to Ben Donnelly.

Fred Krebs leaves his ability to tell 'stories' to Jack Brennan.

Aristeo Romero wills his calm ways to Tony Armijo.

Bobby Gilpin leaves his 'Femmes of Flagstaff' to Max Teaford.

Ted Willey gives his ability to make ladies weep to Ray Dillon.

Dolores Martinez wills her figure to Marjorie Mullins.

Cordula Rushing leaves her helpful attitude to all students who need it.

Mollie Cooper wishes to will Julia Garcia a calendar to be used in keeping her dates straight.

Angela Aranda leaves her beautiful eyes to Mary Louise Blackwell.

Joe Dietz wills "Effective Alibis, or Everyday Excuses to the Office" to Roy Sutherland.

Charles Oare leaves Helen Bazell the old familiar saying "Awnertz," to be used when assignments are getting too heavy.

Oran Upchurch leaves his woeful, wistful, and worldly wise ways to "Honkey" Ferguson.

ITEM-VII The above items, having been bequeathed at the full consent of the Senior Class of 1935, are hereby approved and signed by:

Miss Naysmith

Dearest Eleanor

Tonight as I sit by the campfire
Dreaming of glad days gone by,
Old friends and old haunts pass before me,
Then fade in the dark western sky.
Glimpses of faces, the old and the true,
Though long years have kept us apart
And their visions pass into a fanthomless blue,
Their memory will blaze in my heart.

Perhaps being out west for the first time in ten years has inspired me to the above sentimentality but to be more practical, I must say that if one is seeking pure air to breathe and the most beautiful scenes to view, Phoenix and its surroundings, in fact the whole State of Arizona can furnish all this.

I had a delightful trip out, and when I reached Albuquerque, who should board train as Pullman Conductor, but Charles Oare, remember him? He was able to furnish me with much information about the Class of '35, and we had a very enjoyable trip from Albuquerque to Winslow.

Charles told me that Dolores Martinez and Fred Yoder have become quite famous as a tango team. They have a week's engagement at the Orphoum here in Phoenix, and I am going to see them tomorrow night. You know even back in our high school days they were both noted for their ability to trip the light fantastic.

Today, in order to pass the time away profitably, I went out to the Capitol. As I was seating myself in the gallery of the House, I heard a very familiar voice boom out from below; just as I had suspected, the thundering one was Jim Bly. Jim, it seems is trying to put through a bill for slum clearance in Winslow, and I think he will succeed as he is a very convincing speaker.

Roderick McClung is fast becoming Phoenix' chief soap-box politician, and he really has quite a following of gullible souls who swallow his arguments hook, line and sinker. One of his main topic of attacks seems to be the Bly-Slum-Clearance policy. Oh well, they have the whole desert to fight it out in.

Betty Roeder, so I was told, is teaching school in Isleta, New Mexico. She attended school at our own Tempe before transferring to the reservation country. Charles told me that she was not planning to teach next year. I wonder if it is Cupid----?

Clare Cravath, Betty's old pal has bought over the WINSLOW MAIL, and is running it very successfully. The joke column, especially, has flowered and bloomed most beautifully under her editorship.

Augustine Hernandez is coaching a very fast-moving Winslow Junior High Eleven, and his star half back is none other than Bill Clarke II. Old Bill has become quite wealthy now; he is an Indian trader with head quarters at Polacca.

And while we are on the subject of "Bills" I must hasten to tell you to be sure and buy the May issue of the "Ladies Home Journal". The winning smile you will see sprawled across the IPANA toothpaste advertisement belongs to none other than William Courtney, late of Winslow, but now of New York, Long Island and other points east.

Bill owes all his success to Bobby Gilpin who ground him a set of detachables which pass even beneath the eagle eye of Mary Lee Hinely, who is the advertising manager for the "Ladies Home Journal."

Perhaps it is quite a jump from false teeth to food--or is it? Anyway, have you eaten any Topio blanca Tamales? They are very much the rage out here, and are being served at all the restaurants. Mollie Cooper, Domingo Andrade, and Angela Aranda have the joint copyright on the secret receipt, and through it, are becoming not only famous, but also quite wealthy.

And while I'm telling you about tamales and other things South of the Rio Grande, I know you will be interested to hear that Jack Keeton is proprietor and director-in-chief of these popular "KEETON AND COMPANY KABARETS", which are scattered through out Mexico, and may be found in all the principal cities in the West.

Perhaps you are wondering what has become of "Tombo" Kaufman and Krebs. According to Charles, they are both in Winslow where they are the two most prominent business men, each vying with the other for big deals and high class salesmanship. Kaufman as a Ford dealer and Krebs as a Chevrolet "Fixer Upper".

You were very fortunate in being able to see Broadway's last showing of "Ben Hur", and know you were doubly delighted in seeing your former class mate, Ted Willey, in the title role. Ted has become quite an established character in the theatrical world now, hasn't he?

While I was in New York early last fall, I stopped in at Florence Pinto's modiste shop on Fifth and Broadway, to purchase a hat. Perhaps it was the red feather on the hat, or perhaps the hat itself attracted me, but I am inclined to think that it was the familiar profile of the girl modeling that drew my eye. It was Esther Futch! After giving me a warm reception, she grasped my arm and hurried me upstairs to the next floor, telling me all the time she had something important for me to see. Innocently enough I had not thought of that "important something" being Azalea Miller! Perhaps I had forgotten for a time that they might still be the inseparable companions of their high school days. Azalea modeling gowns and Esther, hats in the same store. The hat was rather expensive so I felt that I could not afford a taxi; I took a street-car at Fifth and Broadway. I noticed the great number of old ladies on the car and then suddenly I saw the attraction: The handsome conductor was none other than Emil LeFluer Recordon, and standing beside him dressed in a dapper grey suit with white spots and a big cigar was "Twinklo-Eyes" Rudd feeding the women a big line and acting as general maker of comfort for the passengers.

I stayed at the Hotel Adolphia in New York, as I thought I might as well patronize a hotel in which a Winslow girl was working. Cordula Rushing owns a very beautiful florist shop on the bottom floor near the entrance. Cordula attracts much of her business by stationing the very attractive Mary Alice Gray outside her shop as vendor.

I know you will not miss visiting Virginia Farnsworth at Maggie Rouff's designing classes in Paris when you go over next fall. Her address 34 $\frac{1}{2}$  Rue de La Paix, Paris. Virginia is taking a special course in the designing of children's dresses and her model is Joan Grim, who by the way has not grown an inch since the spring of 1935.

When you visit Rotterdam I know you will go to the American Consul for your pass port and you are going to find that the Consul is our own Wm. Omar Dooms whose career began in the public speaking class in Winslow High School. He is very competent and has for his secretary, Vernie Martin who has a very far-reaching way about him.

Dooms has employed Joe Kawasaki as his official bouncer. Joe has changed from the shy, retiring student of high school days to the most bellowing, bull-dozing, bouncer in Rotterdam, according to all reports (including those made by guns) he is plenty tough.

Sunny Spain is perhaps the country in which you will have the most care-free and enjoyable time. When you attend the bull fights at the Plaza de Toros, you will notice that the chief fighter (not the bull) is Roy Ketring--Roy got his animal taming bug in high school when he took the part of Bonaparte in the senior play.

Another interesting feature of the play which you cannot help but notice is the fact that the lady who sits in the left wing in the third box from the main entrance faints at every show just as the head Toreador takes his bows. The lady happens to be Regina Smith who came over to study Spanish history, but has found herself truly smitten with the head bull slayer, R. V. Ketring.

Spain doth have its charms for Delores Kelchner also. Did you know that she went to that land to pick olives off the olive trees for the Palmolive Company? Some olive skinned sonor, Harry Simmons, by name induced her to date him for life, and now they are happily picking dates off the date trees on their own date farm. So much for charming Spain.

I read Elma Bush's criticism of your latest book in Saturday Review of Literature. We are all proud of Elma, and I think that even yet she may prove to be the female Alexander Walcott.

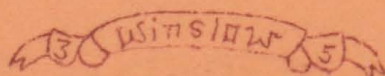

And Eleanor, did I tell you about Harriet Richardson? Of course you remember her, she was Miss W. H. S. in 1935, and she is still as popular as she was then. She made her debut on the London stage in an original dance act, and has risen in popularity until now who has given up the stage and is doing charity work in the slums in Winslow. I expect to see her tomorrow as she plans to be in Phoenix at that time.

I think I have told you all I know about our class mates so I shall expect to hear from you as soon as you become inspired with a name for your new book.

Here's to your success and to the memory of a grand class, which, although it may be scattered to all corners of the earth, will be held in spirit; an unbreakable bond of golden memories.

Lovingly yours

Peggy Mahoney

Calendar

SEPTEMBER

4. School again! Sighs; smiles; book swapping; etc.
10. One dime, one tenth of a dollar got us in to see Chief Hailstorm, a Cherokee Indian, who performed for us.
21. The Pep Squad gave its first assembly of the year in preparation for the Gallup game tomorrow.
22. The first game of the year! Under the circumstances it was what we call a good game with Winslow taking the 7-6 victory.
29. Globe vs. Winslow. Score 18-0. Let's not talk about it.

OCTOBER

6. Jerome played here today and took home the better part of a 14-0 score. Better luck next time, Bulldogs.
12. Columbus Day assembly. Good old Columbus.
13. We were to have played St. Johns today but they couldn't come. Too busy, I guess.
20. The Bulldogs played in Clarkdale today but didn't have anything to show but a little experience. The score was 0-0.
26. The Public Speaking Class entertained us today with an assembly. It was good too, what I mean.
27. Prescott sent her Badgers up to tangle with the Bulldogs and oh! what a game: 2-0 in favor of Prescott.

NOVEMBER

2. Pep Squad gave its assembly and of course showed off their new outfits. (leave it to the girls.)
3. The Bulldogs, and practically all the high school, went to Holbrook to bring home the bacon in the shape of a 6-0 victory.
9. The seniors announced that their play would be "Don't Shoot," pardon me, I mean "Gunshy".
12. The Eagles invaded the kennels today and carried away a victory, 7-

0, to be exact. Since it was the last game of the season, the Pep Squad gave a dance for the students of both schools and the alumni.

28. A sophomore assembly, "and by cracky, they done 'emselves proud."

DECEMBER

7. The baby class of our school gave their annual assembly today. If we hadn't known it, we wouldn't have guessed they were freshmen.
13. The Bulldogs went to Gallup for the week end, incidently to play 2 games of basketball. Gallup 20, Winslow 19.
14. Sacred Heart bowed to the Bulldogs tonight when Winslow held the score 13-12. The seniors presented "Gunshy" this evening and was it a wow! Who would have thought our studious 'Penrod' could be such a shiek.
21. Public Speaking Class gave us a sort of farewell program. No more school until Jan. 7. Hurrah!

JANUARY

7. Back to the 'Barracks' but that was a "swell" vacation.
11. Seligman proved difficult, but just leave it to the Bulldogs. The score read: Seligman 19, Winslow 23.
12. Those Black and Orange boys from Williams left us a 16-7 victory.
16. Semester Tests! Groans, and shrieks but wait until those cards go home.
18. The Grade School gave their operetta in the high school auditorium. A good performance too.
25. A fast game, with good team work on both sides, resulted in a 32-16 victory for the Muckers.
26. "And so, my dears, the Roadrunners ran away with the score (39-26) but the Bulldogs will get it back next year."
28. Boys' week, sponsored by the American Legion.
31. The English IV class edited the WINSLOW MAIL this week. They furnished all the reporters, feature writers and a couple of editors. "A huge success" was the verdict.

Quarter

FEBRUARY

1. Music; gypsies; fortune-tellers; hot dogs and even the quintuplets! The "Bulldog Pumpus" of course. Everyone was here, and everyone went home satisfied.
5. A concert was held in the auditorium and those with contest pieces performed.
6. The juniors are sporting new rings. I wonder how long it will take the other three classes to get a few of them?
8. Our game with Prescott was cancelled.
9. Jerome met her Waterloo, 'er pardon, I mean the Bulldogs took them to the tune of a 30-26 score. Not bad, Bulldogs!
12. Lincoln assembly. Very impressive.
15. In the second tangle with the Eagles, the Bulldogs took them to a cleaning. 28-26
16. Our debate team was defeated in Flagstaff but received congratulations on their fine delivery and thought.
18. The Student Council girls gave a luncheon for the boys, after which a short meeting was held.
20. Mr. Grieder spoke over station KTAR.
21. The Roadrunners again took Winslow down the line with a 33-31 score but we'll be back, won't we Bulldogs.

MARCH

1. Basketball turn-out, pardon, I mean tournament, but Winslow surely did turn out; half of the school went along to cheer our boys, or was it just one boy?
2. The tournament ended tonight with Round Valley carrying away the cup. And by the way, wasn't that a grand dance at the auditorium?
8. Did you tune in to "Tune In" tonight? Congratulations, Music Dept.
18. The Student Council just packed up their 'eats' and went to Clear Creek to eat. Sounds good, doesn't it, and to hear them tell it, it was good.
21. Mr. E. W. Dunbar talked to us in assembly concerning the harmful poisons in cigarettes. He also gave pledges to be signed to any one who wanted them.

1. The contestants gave a concert at the school. Sounds good for the contest.
1. All Fools day! Did you see any "chocolate coated" soap bubbling around?
5. First day of the contest and all is well.
6. Second Day of contest; we got second place, Snowflake took home the cup.
12. Wheee! A close shave! The Civics tests didn't come and the seniors didn't look very sad.
13. Inter-class track meet. The seniors went home happy with the Junior Class running a close second.
19. Good Friday--no school.
22. Dr. Wallace of Flagstaff talked to us this morning, Flagstaff extends a good offer, seniors.
23. School Picnic; Chaves Pass; swell eats; lots of wind; 'nough said.
26. Back to our freshmen days with the juniors in "Growing Pains," and did we enjoy it!
27. Northern Arizona Invitational Track Meet. Flagstaff took home first honors, while Winslow was second.

MAY

3. "Ditch Day" and did they miss us? In spite of the rain we had a supersplengeorgeous time.
4. University Meet and Girl's Play Day. Tired, but happy and we did enjoy it.
11. Northern Arizona Track Meet.
17. Junior Prom, and did we trip the light fantastic!
24. Senior Hop; those seniors really know how to conduct a dance.
31. Commencement. And believe it or not, we hate to leave the old school!

Jokes

Mr. Booth: "And when he was a small boy, his father died and left him an orphan."

Helen Dean: "Mercy, what did he do with it?"

Miss Oare: "Tom, where is Mexico?"

Tombo: "Page 10, geography book."

Bob M. "I don't know whether that physics is written in French or Italian."

Fred K. "It's all Greek to me."

Proud Parent: "What course will my Leslie graduate in?"

Mr. Grieder: "In the course of time."

Harriet Richardson:(at concert):

"What's that book the conductor is looking at?"

Harry S.: "That's the score of the overture."

Harriet R.: "Oh, really? Who is winning?"

Potthoff: "If all chemistry is true why is alkali?"

Bly: "Because it is base."

Customer: "Have you an adding machine in the store, my boy?"

Fred Y.: "No sir, but we have three counters."

Miss Oare: "Where was the Magna Charter signed?"

Tom M.: "At the bottom."

Mr. Upchurch: "Son, can't you possible cut down on your school expenses?"

Oran: "I might possibly do with out any books."

Florence:(speaking of Bobby) "He is a perfect bear."

Mary M.: "Are you referring to his arms or his temper?"

Freshie: "My great grandfather carried a drum all through the revolutionary war."

Soph: "And whenever he sighted the enemy he beat it, I suppose."

Thermometers aren't the only things that are graduated and get degrees without having brains. Some seniors do it.

Miss Oare: "What great project is going on in Washington?"

Bill D.: "The Tennessee Valley project."

Lives of great men all remind us
We can make our lives sublime,
And by asking foolish questions,
Take up all the Civics time.

--Clarke's version

Coack: "Say, Tod, you have your jersey on wrong side out."

Ted W.: "Sh!! there's a hole on the other side."
